"At this year's MIPCOM, we're highlighting especially our young people's programs, thus emphasizing our long-standing commitment to high-quality entertainment for this important demographic. There's a stunning new 3-D animated adaptation of [Rudyard] Kipling's classic Jungle Book, and the adventure-comedy series Marsupilami, featuring the popular comic-book hero. For toddlers, we've got top-notch animated series like Fun With Claude and Igam Ogam. As for live action, there's Stella and the Star of the Orient, an evocative time-travel adventure. Finally, a special treat for fans of H2O: Just Add Water, the third season! Millions of fans are eagerly awaiting the new mermaids-with-superpowers adventures. In recent years, we've been stepping up our production output in animation—timeless programs that add new contours to our valuable library. With attractive all-media offers and B2C platforms, our children's portfolio—live action and animation—boasts the ideal prerequisites for the expansion of our service offerings in the digital world."
