A visit to the ZDF Enterprises stand at MIPCOM will immerse you in the Australian surfing town of Lightning Point, which, in the series of the same name, has been over-run by aliens. From Jonathan M. Shiff Productions, creator and producer of the hit H2O: Just Add Water, the live-action series Lightning Point is a “winning mix of teen drama, fun, surf, sun and sci-fi cool,” says Arne Lohmann, the director of co-production, children and youth. ZDFE is also offering another season of the successful Australian co-production Dance Academy. “We can expect more stunning dancing sequences and fabulous drama performances from the young cast,” says Lohmann of the new episodes. As for animated highlights, Sherlock Yack “is the perfect mix of education and entertainment for a young (and old!) audience,” Lohmann says. From DQ Entertainment, also behind The Jungle Book, comes Peter Pan, now done in 3D. The animated Michel is whimsical and quirky, says Lohmann.
