LUMIERE TAKES ZDF TITLES

THE DRAMA department of Germany's ZDF Enterprises has signed a MIPTV deal with Benelux's Lumiere. The deal comprises: Tellus, a youth-oriented series about young eco-activists who get themselves into big trouble; the third season of Scandi police series Johan Falk, inspired by real cases from Swedish special ops files; and the second season of Arne Dahl, about an elite police unit that investigates complex, violent crimes with international connections. Lumiere takes all rights for the Benelux territories in the deal, which is the latest in a well-established partnership between the two companies. Lumiere's production arm Lunanime was involved in the co-production of the crime series The Team, which ZDF Enterprises distributes worldwide.
