

ZDF'S GREAT WHITE HOPE

NEW FROM ZDF Enterprises' catalogue of documentaries is the 52-minute programme Beyond Fear: Communicating With Great White Sharks, which looks at how these so-called monsters play an important role in the ecological balance of the oceans and deserve to be protected. Breathtaking scenes are shot by free-diving film-makers and "shark whisperers", who interact directly with the magnificent creatures. The Second World War ended 60 years ago, and several new documentaries and docu-dramas from ZDF Enterprises commemorate the event. Titles include The Last Battle: Berlin, April 1945, which looks at the Reich's final days; The Conspiracy: Trying To Kill Hitler, the story of the courageous men who refused to follow Hitler as he led a continent to the brink of doom; Hitler's End: The Bunker, which casts a merciless light on Hitler's tenuous grip on reality; The Last Christmas: December 1944, which captures the atmosphere of hope and doom that pervaded the last Christmas of the war; and the third installment of the series, The War Of The Century III: The Storm - Eastern Front.

Photo: © Ralf Kiefner

Beyond Fear: Communicating With Great White Sharks (ZDF Enterprises).